Chronic Pain Anonymous Fact Sheet

The Preamble of Chronic Pain Anonymous:
CPA is a fellowship of people who share their experience, strength, and hope with each other, so that they may solve their common problem and help others to recover from the disabling effects of chronic pain and chronic illness. We believe that changing attitudes can aid recovery. The only requirement for membership is a desire to recover from the emotional and spiritual debilitation of chronic pain or chronic illness. There are no dues or fees for CPA membership. We are self-supporting through our own contributions. CPA is not allied with any sect, denomination, politics, organization, or institution; does not wish to engage in any controversy, neither endorses nor opposes any causes. Our primary purpose is to live our lives to the fullest by minimizing the effects of chronic pain and chronic illness in our lives and helping others to do the same. We do this by practicing the Twelve Steps, and welcoming and giving comfort and understanding to each other.

Recovery in CPA is defined as the ability to live peacefully, joyfully, and comfortably with ourselves and others.

What CPA Does:
1. CPA supports worldwide meetings including face-to-face, telephone, and online. Meeting directories, CPA literature, and other resources are available at www.chronicpainanonymous.org.
2. Anyone interested in CPA is welcome to attend an “open” CPA meeting to observe and learn. Questions from non-members are most welcome during fellowship time, after the meeting has closed. Attendance at “closed” meetings is limited to those who experience chronic pain and/or chronic illness. CPA is free to all and is supported through member contributions.
3. At meetings, members refer to their pain and illness in general terms. Members support each other in learning how to find serenity and a meaningful life regardless of chronic pain and chronic illness by practicing the Twelve Steps.

What CPA Does NOT Do:
1. Offer medical advice, diagnoses, or prognoses.
2. Provide treatments, therapies, legal, or welfare services.
3. Accept money from outside sources.
4. Engage in or support education or research.

For Professionals

CPA is a mutual support group of peers who share their experience applying the CPA principles to challenges related to the effects of living with chronic pain and chronic illness. Members do this by studying and practicing the CPA Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions.

CPA is not group therapy; meetings are not led by a counselor or therapist. However, CPA is a supportive network that can complement professional treatment options.

No advance notification or written referral is necessary to attend a CPA meeting. Anyone experiencing chronic pain and/or chronic illness is welcome to attend.

CPA Cooperates with Professionals by Providing:
- Speakers and literature for conferences, workshops, and meetings.
- Invitations for professionals to attend "open" CPA meetings as observers.
- Presentations at schools, colleges, and facilities.
